

ListSuggest

Version:
Q3 2022

What is ListSuggest?

ListSuggest is the world's first worship set list generator tool. It helps worship leaders streamline worship list creation.

It offers two worship set list ideas for 14 themes. That's 28 worship sets- enough to fill half a year's worth of Sundays.

I used to spend 60-90 minutes each week putting together a solid worship set.

With this tool, I create them in minutes.

How to Use ListSuggest

As the name implies, ListSuggest is a starting point for your weekly worship set list creation process.

If you think about it, creating unique worship lists each week is incredibly inefficient. Most churches use the same 50-60 songs. Why are thousands of worship leaders across the world spending their valuable time creating set lists from scratch each week?

The goal of this tool is to streamline your job as a volunteer or part-time worship leader so you can focus on your many other responsibilities.

The tool isn't meant to minimize the role of the Holy Spirit as you prepare. It provides a starting point. You are the final word when it comes to your list.

Be sure to read the FAQ section after the worship lists. I'd love your feedback on this tool. Send me a message at tim@worshipdeeper.com.

FAQs

Does this tool replace seeking God?

No. ListSuggest streamlines the process of creating worship lists. These lists don't replace prayer and seeking God for what He wants to do in your congregation. Rather, the lists are a starting point.

Can I modify these set lists for my use?

Yes. There may be songs that your church doesn't know, or a song might not feel right for a particular service. That's perfectly okay. I've included two worship set list options under each theme. Use one as-is, mix and match, or replace a song or two from your favorite list. I've included SongFeel, a description of the song's overall vibe, so you can easily replace a song with a similar one. I've included 5 songs for each set. Most churches do 3-6 songs. Feel free to remove a song or add a song to fit your typical worship set length.

Will I know the songs?

With so many worship songs, there's a good chance you're not doing all these songs in your church. To ensure maximum usability, I've primarily used top songs from CCLI and PraiseCharts.com. Feel free to replace any song with ones that are less well known or unique to your church. More on my song selection methodology below.

Where can I hear all the songs in one place?

I've created a YouTube playlist and a Spotify playlist for all the songs currently used for ListSuggest.

What about keys?

I have not included keys because each worship leader will change the original key to suit their voice. Remember to choose keys you can sing that will also permit smooth transitions (such as using the circle of 5ths). If you're not sure how to do this, see my post Worship Set List Tips for Powerful Worship Times.

What about dynamics?

I have built dynamics into each set. I typically construct my set lists to start upbeat, slow down for a deep time of worship, then pick up a bit at the end. While this is how I've put together most of the lists, feel free to rearrange songs if it suits a service better, such as starting low and worshipful, and ending upbeat.

What song version do you recommend?

I've included YouTube links to the versions I recommend.

Will you come out with new versions of this tool?

Yes. Each quarter I will make changes to the lists to reflect the current top songs. I'll make the new list available for purchase at the beginning of each quarter (January, April, July, October). I'll include Easter lists in Q1 & Q2 and Christmas lists in Q4.

I hope these lists streamline the tough job of worship leader. I wish I would have had this tool as a volunteer local church worship leader for 20 years. Hopefully it inspires your ministry and makes it more sustainable.

Methodology

Selecting the library of songs for this tool was likely the most difficult part. There are thousands of worship songs done every Sunday across the world. To increase the likelihood that a church does most of the songs on the list, I started with a mix of top songs from CCLI and PraiseCharts.com. CCLI tracks the most used songs from a “broad cross-section of churches of all sizes and denominations licensed with CCLI,” according to the company. CCLI’s songs tend to be the “old standards,” however. Many are decades old and still on the list. To make sure I’ve included newer songs, I also used trending songs from PraiseCharts.com. These are the songs that are really catching on in churches and will likely be on CCLI’s list soon. This gives ListSuggest worship leaders a good mix of songs they know, plus new songs to consider for their church.

There will be some worship leaders out there who don’t like doing popular worship. That’s perfectly okay, and this list is not for them. To make the tool most useful to the largest number of worship leaders, I’m unapologetically using popular songs.

For Q3 2022, I used around a 70-song library, shown below. Why not a larger library? It would decrease the number of songs the typical church is already doing. Also, I recommend a church having only about 40 songs they rotate through at any one time, rotating one in and one out about once per month. The congregation doesn’t learn songs as fast as worship leaders think. I’ve used more songs than the recommended 40, but you can modify the lists to fit your church’s repertoire. Better yet, start teaching your church the songs in this library now so that this tool will be more useful to you.

I’ve also added other well-known songs and hymns if they fit particularly well with a theme. I may also add very new and unknown songs that I think are worth considering. Please provide feedback on my song library and themes so I can improve it for future versions of this tool.
